AFT to Donate Funds to United Way

The Board of Directors of American Folklore Theatre recently announced its decision to donate 10% of the proceeds from AFT's October 21 performance to United Way of Door County. The donation will come from ticket sales to Sometimes a Song: the Music of Dan Fogelberg, playing at Ephraim Village Hall throughout AFT's fall season. Patrons interested in supporting United Way through AFT are encouraged to make advance reservations for that evening's performance.

United Way of Door County is a non-profit organization that seeks to empower people to build better lives by funding programs in areas such as health care, child care, and education. United Way Executive Director Amy Kohlne said of AFT's donation, "United Way is pleased to be partnering with AFT on this performance."

AFT Managing Director Kaye Christman added, "United Way does so much to assist needy residents of Door County in becoming self-sufficient and contributing members of the community. AFT is glad to assist this county-wide organization in a very small way."

In addition to Sometimes a Song, playing in Ephraim until October 25, AFT is presenting And if Elected, a lighthearted romp through presidential campaign history, from October 9 until November 2. Patrons interested in purchasing tickets to any of these performances should call or visit the AFT office in the Green Gables shops in North Ephraim (854-6117) or visit the theater's website at www.folkloretheatre.com. More information about United Way of Door County can be found at www.unitedwaydc.com.

American Folklore Theatre is a non-profit professional theatre organization that produces original musical shows in repertory from June through August. AFT continues its performances into the fall with shows in Door County town halls September through October and over the Christmas holidays. American Folklore Theatre is a member of Theatre Wisconsin and the Theatre Communications Group (TCG), organizations that promote non-profit theatre groups.
